Jen and Sarah’s Class Mirror

This beautiful mirror was hand-crafted by the children of Jen and Sarah’s class. The mirror measures 27”x27” and is framed by the handprints and the signatures of each child. This mirror would make a great addition to any hallway or child’s bedroom. Your child will reflect on the pre-primary years whenever he/she looks at this priceless mirror.

Mary Ann and Kirsten’s Class Table and Chair Set

This table and chair set was specially painted by the children of Marianne and Kirsten’s class. The whimsical motif will fit any room’s décor. Each child personally painted and signed the table. Your child will use and cherish this table and chair set for many years to come...

Lori and Phyllis’s Class Storage Box

This storage box is covered with hundreds of photographs of the children of Lori and Phyllis’s class. The photos are découpaged on the sides and top of the storage box. Your child will love seeing their primary days preserved on this one of a kind box. The box can be used to store your child’s school keepsakes or as a side table next to his/her bed.

1st Year Painting – “The Borrowers”

1st Year students created a painting to illustrate The Borrowers by Mary Norton, a story about little people who live between the floorboards of a house. The borrowers have created their homes from items “borrowed” from their larger neighbors...a teacup becomes a bathtub, a child’s block a dining table, empty spools of thread serves as stools. The painting was created with acrylic paints on canvas. Each child in the class has contributed to part of the painting. A copy of the book is included with the painting.

2nd Year Elementary Painting – “The Secret Garden”

The Second Years based their artistic creation on The Secret Garden by Frances Hodgson Burnett. It is a story about a young orphan girl who comes to live in a house on the Yorkshire moors and discovers, among its many mysteries, a secret locked garden just waiting to be discovered. The student created their painting using acrylic paints on canvas. Each student had an opportunity to create part of the painting. The design of the picture was a group effort. A copy of the book is included with the painting.

3rd Years & Upper Elementary Painting – “A Window to the World of Poetry”

The painting is composed of four separate panels merged to create a single painting. Each panel depicts the students’ interpretation of a different poet’s work that they have studied: Shel Silverstein – The Giving Tree, Rudyard Kipling – “Road Song of the Bander-Log”, Robert Frost-“The Road not Taken”, and Emily Dickinson – “I never saw a Moor”. Each painting is signed by the artists. Books of poetry by each selected poets are include with this painting.
